Balance Business LLP does not provide brokerage services, does not offer trading in derivative financial instruments and does not have a financial benefit from the possible interaction of the Recipient with any brokerage company or exchange chosen by him. The company is not responsible for the consequences and financial result of any such interaction. Using the Service Provider, the Recipient agrees to these terms and undertakes not to make claims to the company and the product neither now nor ever in the future.

Informational subscription to market signals, as well as receiving a signal by means of communication, is purely informative. The final decision on entering the market (opening a market position, committing a trade operation) is taken personally by the Signal Recipient and solely the Recipient bears full and unconditional responsibility for any result obtained as a result of this action. A signal received in the form of a message in an accessible way is not an appeal, an order, a recommendation, and the information contained in the message is of a purely fact-finding nature, neither directly nor indirectly, is indicative, inviting or recommending, action.

The information provided is a purely subjective opinion and should be regarded solely as a third-party opinion, the adherence to which lies solely in the recipient's area of responsibility. The signal receiver understands and accepts all risks associated with trading (trading transactions) with over-the-counter financial instruments. The choice of the market, broker, trading platform, exchange, volumes of trade, the size of the deposit is the sole responsibility of the recipient and only the Recipient bears full responsibility for the outcome of the trade.
